Fourth Quarter 2013 Revenues Approximately $53 Million; up 62% from Q4 in 2012; 2013 Preliminary Revenues Approximately $208 Million; 87% increase from 2012

FRAMINGHAM, Mass., Jan. 14, 2014 / PRNewswire -- HeartWare International, Inc. (NASDAQ: HTWR), a leading innovator of less invasive, miniaturized circulatory support technologies that are revolutionizing the treatment of advanced heart failure, today announced that it expects revenues for the fourth quarter of 2013 will be approximately $53 million, bringing expected full-year 2013 revenues to approximately $208 million.

"Our full-year revenue growth of 87% for 2013 above 2012 reflects the first complete year of commercialization of the HeartWare® Ventricular Assist System in the U.S. and represents the strong market penetration we have experienced to date," said Doug Godshall, President and Chief Executive Officer. "Fourth Quarter 2013 revenues were derived roughly evenly between domestic and international sales, with October and December being notably stronger than November in the U.S."

"Looking ahead, we remain focused on continued expansion of our domestic commercial footprint for bridge-to-transplant patients, as well as ramping enrollment in our destination therapy clinical trial. In international markets, we have received approval to commence our clinical trial in Japan, a key growth market in the future," Mr. Godshall added.
