

HeartWare International Announces Cooperation Agreement With Engaged Capital, LLC

- HeartWare to Add New Board Member -

- Engaged Capital to Withdraw Previously Nominated Slate of Directors

FRAMINGHAM, Mass., Jan. 28, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- HeartWare International, Inc. \(HTWR\), a leading innovator of less-invasive, miniaturized circulatory support technologies that are revolutionizing the treatment of advanced heart failure, today announced that it has entered into a Cooperation Agreement with Engaged Capital, LLC. Under the terms of the agreement, HeartWare and Engaged Capital will jointly select an additional independent director to be appointed to the HeartWare Board of Directors. This appointed director will stand for election at HeartWare's 2016 Annual Meeting of Stockholders. In addition, HeartWare has agreed to establish a business strategy committee, consisting of five directors, including the newly appointed director. Engaged Capital has agreed to withdraw its previously nominated slate of directors for election at the Annual Meeting. Further, in connection with the company's announcement of the termination of its proposed transaction with Valtech Cardio, Ltd., Engaged Capital will not pursue its solicitation of proxies in opposition to the Valtech transaction.

"We have maintained an open dialogue with Engaged Capital over the last several months, and following recent, constructive discussions, we are pleased to have reached an agreement with them," said Doug Godshall, President and Chief Executive Officer. "We look forward to working collaboratively to select a new, highly qualified, independent director who will bring a complementary perspective and further strengthen our Board of Directors."

"We are pleased to have reached an amicable resolution with HeartWare following the termination of the Valtech transaction. We appreciate the steps the company has taken today to maintain focus on its core ventricular assist device (VAD) business," said Glenn W. Welling, Principal and Chief Investment Officer at Engaged Capital. "We invested in HeartWare because we are confident in the strength of HeartWare's core VAD business and in the significant opportunity for growth within the global mechanical circulatory support market. We believe HeartWare's VAD franchise is significantly undervalued and that additional objective, financial perspectives represented on the Board can help support HeartWare's efforts to drive growth and enhance shareholder value."

Pursuant to the Cooperation Agreement, Engaged Capital has agreed to vote all of its shares in favor of HeartWare's nominees at the 2016 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, and has agreed to a customary standstill provision. With the recent appointment of Stephen Oesterle, M.D., and the additional independent director, the Board of Directors will expand to ten directors.

HeartWare's 2016 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, which historically has been held in June, has not yet been scheduled. HeartWare stockholders are not required to take any action at this time.

About HeartWare International

HeartWare International develops and manufactures miniaturized implantable heart pumps, or ventricular assist devices, to treat patients suffering from advanced heart failure. The HeartWare® Ventricular Assist System features the HVAD® pump, a small full-support circulatory assist device designed to be implanted next to the heart, avoiding the abdominal surgery generally required to implant competing devices. The HeartWare System is approved in the United States for the intended use as a bridge to cardiac transplantation in patients who are at risk of death from refractory end-stage left ventricular heart failure, has received CE Marking in the European Union and has been used to treat patients in 47 countries. The device is also currently the subject of a U.S. clinical trial for destination therapy. For additional information, please visit www.heartware.com.
